HOLD THE LINE

The immediate post-war period will be beset with many agricultural problems. The principal one will be the possibility of a collapse of the prices of farm products such as occurred after World War I

Canadian farm production has increased substantially during the war years in direct response to the pleas of the Canadian and Allied governments. There have been abundant markets for farm products during the war. There is a danger, however that these markets will contract in peacetime with the result that surpluses will accumulate in Canada.

Canadian farmers should be strong in their determination to insist that there shall be no collapse of farm prices in the post-war period similar to what occurred after the first world war.

The best way of achieving this is to strengthen farm co-operatives and farmer associations.

False Loose Smut of Barley

Last June, we published a description of "a third barley smut," and we appealed to grain buyers, members of junior farm clubs and others to send in, for identification, specimens of what looked like loose smut.

The response to our appeal was fairly good, and we are very grateful to those from whom specimens were received. Of 501 specimens, 410 proved to be ordinary loose smut, and 91 were false loose smut.

False loose smut becomes less and less common from East to West. Of 146 Manitoba specimens, 66 (44%) were false loose; of 295 Saskatchewan specimens, 95 (32%) were false loose; and in Alberta, 20 (13%) out of a total of 150 proved to be false loose smut. This can be explained, at least in part, by the fact that the practice of seed treatment increases from East to West. False loose smut can be controlled by ordinary methods of seed treatment; but ordinary loose smut cannot. 86% of all Alberta specimens, 70% of all Saskatchewan specimens and only 47% of all Manitoba specimens were derived from treated seed. In other words, it looks as though Alberta may be keeping false loose smut down by seed treatment.

It is also significant that of 85 Nevel specimens, only nine were false loose smut. Nevel is concentrated in Alberta. Of 99 Plush specimens, 49 were false loose smut. Plush is concentrated in Manitoba.

Due to the limited quantity of material, the above remarks must be regarded as suggestions rather than conclusions.

The Danger Of Inflation

OF THE MANY EVILS which result from war, inflation is one of those which is most injurious to the welfare of a nation. The unusual economic conditions created by war tend to set up that dangerous spiral of rising prices and wages which ultimately ends in complete financial disaster. Almost every country, including Canada, suffered from inflation during the last war, and the lessons learned then have resulted in widespread efforts to avoid this condition again. In Canada, Britain, and the United States, measures have been taken to control prices and wages and to prevent unwarranted increases in either of these items.

Public Support Has Been Given

Great difficulties stand in the way of exercising such extensive control, and all the nations which have undertaken such schemes have not met with complete success. They have, however, maintained much greater economic stability than those nations which did not attempt to control the situation. In Canada, the public has been aware, since the beginning of the war, of the dangers of inflation, and there has been splendid co-operation on the part of the people in avoiding the danger. For some time now, there has been an extensive system of government control, aimed at preventing inflation, but it is agreed that the interest and support of the public has been a most important factor in the success of that effort here.

People Must Be Patient

Many of the controls which have been enforced in order to ensure economic stability are, of necessity, unpleasant, and as world conditions generally become more normal, there is a tendency on the part of many people to believe that it should no longer be necessary to continue these restrictions. It must be kept in mind, however, that the immediate post-war years may be as critical, in many ways, as the past five years have been, and that it is useless for anyone to expect a quick return to normal conditions. Patience will be needed, on the part of the public in respect to spending their war savings, and to the lifting of some of the present restrictions, and the average Canadian will no doubt continue to see the wisdom of continued caution in these matters.

Will Need Horses

Canada Will Play Large Part In Supplying Europe

Canadian breeding stock may play a large part in re-building the livestock herds of Europe when the war is over. Particularly in the restoration of farm power, the horse will be required, and some idea of the coming demand for horses may be gained from the estimates of the declining numbers of horses in the various countries since the war began. It is estimated that the numbers of horses in Britain, Holland, and Belgium have been reduced by half. In Russia by one-third, and that only one-third of the original numbers of horses has been left in Poland, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, and Greece. Germany, by plundering the other nations, is believed to have as many horses, if not more, than when the war began. However, say the authorities, the task of supplying farm power to help in the restoration of agriculture in the devastated countries is going to be a tremendous one and is expected to result in a strong demand for Canadian horses for some time to come.

IN THE MAJORITY

There are 6,118 Smiths in the Canadian Army. Three hundred and sixty-two of these are William Smiths, of whom 44 come from Toronto. The Browns number 3,071, while the Joneses are only 1,693. It should be no difficulty for the Smiths and the Browns to keep up with the Joneses in this case.

Q.—Thanksgiving will soon be here and I am interested in cranberry sauce for the Thanksgiving turkey. Has cranberry sauce been again placed on the ration list?

A.—Cranberry sauce has again been placed on the ration list and each preserves coupon is worth twelve ounces. Fresh cranberries have never been placed on the ration list.

Q.—In order to start a new business it is necessary to secure a permit and license from the Business Permits Section of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board?

Looking For Markets

China's Tea Trade Will Likely Revive After The War

The Chinese News Service says tea exports are looking forward optimistically to the revival of China's tea trade after the war.

China has wide tea-producing areas and the production of tea has not been severely hit by the war.

They believe that Chinese tea will enjoy a booming market three or four years after the war when China's seaports are reopened.

All Dressed Up With Plenty To Do

This is Lance Corporal Jacqueline (Butch) Irvine, of Rouleau, Sask., member of the Canadian Women's Army Corps. "I love driving, especially tractors, but you can't work on a tractor with this swell new outfit, so I'll settle for my half-ton truck," said the Corporal as she posed for this picture in the new outfit issued to C.W.A.C. vehicle drivers. Jacqueline drives a panel truck for the Army. Dressed in the regulation khaki shirt, and brown tie, the familiar cap styled after the Famous French Kepie, and the smart new dressy trousers in light-weight serge, four pleats front and back, with a useful "grenade" pocket for orders in front, this girl driver is ready to start her day's work at Army Headquarters in Regina.

Can Get Good Stock

Channel Island Farmers May Have To Import Dairy Cattle

The Channel Islands are famous for their dairy cattle, particularly Jersey and Guernsey. That has been the breeding ground of pure-bred stock for centuries. Every pure Jersey and Guernsey outside the Channel Islands has an ancestry that can be traced back to there.

The inhabitants of the Channel Islands almost make pets of their cattle. When the Germans invaded the islands many of the small farmers shot their cows rather than let them fall into enemy hands. The Nazis carried away thousands so that their milk and butter might feed their own people.

Recently, a number of refugees from the island of Alderney met in London to consider what they can do to restore their herds. In a letter to the Times, Henry Gauvain, chairman of the Alderney relief organization stated that restoration of the original herds, if at all possible, is essential as they attain their full perfection in their native island alone. Future generations, he contends, should be exported therefrom if their peculiar characteristics are to be maintained and improved. There was no tuberculosis among the island herds and surgical tuberculosis of bovine origin does not exist unless contracted elsewhere.

The people of the Channel Islands will not relish the idea of importing stock from Britain, or from Canada and the United States, but if they discover that their herds have been so thinned that they need outside help, they will find that outside breeders will not only be glad to help them, but that the stock is absolutely pedigreed.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Australia Has Plans

Scheme Would Give The Commonwealth A Great Air Base

The commonwealth government is planning a post-war airline scheme to bring any place in Australia within 24 hours' travel of any other place. It has a plan to establish 22 centres linked by trunk services, each serving a 300-mile radius by air or surface transport.

Airports are available, the R.A.A.P. will provide the trained personnel and only 18 modern air liners will be required—not many more than are already in operation.

The plan in operation would revolutionize life in the remote areas.—Australian News Letter.

Many sects in India forbid the killing of animals.

Should Come First

British War Brides Deserve The Warmest Welcome From Canada

British war brides of Canadian soldiers have been arriving in Canada for the past year or two and many more will come.

No class of immigrant should be more welcome in this country than representatives of the gallant British people who endured and withstood the worst that a frenzied Nazi hate could send them in the height of German success.

It is all right to provide a haven in this country for refugees from Central Europe, persecuted by the Nazis, but our own kin and kin should come first. The wives of Canadian soldiers constitute a first lien on our hospitality.—Calgary Herald.

UNUSUAL OCCUPATION—

Painting stage scenery for the Canadian Army Show is the unusual occupation of CWAC artist L. L. Mollie. Mollie is a Vancouver, B.C. Twenty-two years old, blonde and attractive, Mollie made her mark in Canadian art circles last year when three of her paintings were hung in the Toronto Art Gallery, and two more won prizes in the Canadian Army C. in Show held in Ottawa a few months ago. She is the daughter of Mrs. A. M. Williams of Galena Island, B.C.

FURLOUGH FUN—

Mecca of the furloughed service girl is the beautiful leave centre recently opened at Banff, Alta., in the heart of the Canadian Rockies. Already scores of Army girls stationed within travelling distance have visited the centre and pronounced it the "hottest ever". Operated under the supervision of the Y.W.C.A., the centre offers a wide variety of holiday recreations. Riding stables, tennis courts, golf links and the famous sulphur springs are all within easy walking distance, while nearby are the clear and sparkling waters of Lake Louise and Lake Moraine. Approximately 70 service women a week have been vacationing at this new centre.

Corporal Brenda Campbell, with the C.W.A.C. Overseas, and wife of Capt. C. E. Campbell, of Edmonton, Alta., has known war experiences which make her the envy of all the CWAC's in her unit. Previous to her enlistment into the C.W.A.C. in 1942, Brenda was a member of the British Auxiliary Territorial Service. In her work as an ack-ack battery plotter, she was successful in bringing down two German planes. One of these, a Ju-88, she watched fall into the sea.

HOME AGAIN—

Enlistment in the Canadian Women's Army Corps spelled a return home for Pte. Lucy McCarthy, of Winnipeg. In 1929, when Lucy was just six years old, her family moved into Fort Osborne Barracks, Winnipeg, where her father, then Sgt. Sylvester (Mac) McCarthy was serving with the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry (Permanent Force). She lived in the garrison for 10 years before her father was honourably discharged from military service. Now Lucy is back at Fort Osborne, this time as a resident of "Cwac-ville".

Saving In Space

Square Milk Bottles Are Used In Many United States Cities

After a year's trial, the innovation of square milk bottles in quarts and half-pints at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and other cities in the United States, has proved a success. Basis of the change from round milk bottles was the desire to conserve cold storage space and to increase truck loads. It was found that about 45 per cent. more milk could be stored and considerably more milk be carried in trucks by using new cases, more compact and lighter in make than the conventional type. These cases require about one-third less space inside the truck and save much work and time to the driver. Grocers and retailers say that they can put 36 square quarts on a refrigerator shelf that held only 25 round bottles.

Belgian Queen Mother Ignored German Instructions To Leave Palace

Belgian Queen Mother Elizabeth ignored German instructions to proceed to Germany when King Leopold was removed in June, and locked herself in her apartment in a wing of Laken Palace, the Exchange Telegraph reported, in a Brussels dispatch.

The Queen Mother was reported to have told the German commander over the telephone that if he wanted to take her to Germany he would have to drag her from the palace. All attempts at persuasion failed—and the Queen stayed in the palace.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Birds Of Prey

By KATHRYN M. KEELEY

McClure Newspaper Syndicate

Young Mrs. Carroll dumped the green cooking apples she had just brought from the corner grocery into the sink and splashed water on them preparatory to making a pie. It was nearly eleven o'clock, and soon Mrs. Murphy, her neighbor, would squeeze through the barren hawthorn bushes for her morning chat. Mrs. Murphy considered herself an oracle on love and life, marriage and babies, and she had taken Ellen Carroll under her protective wing from the time Ellen was a bride. Not that Ellen minded, for Mrs. Murphy was a good cook, and she dropped many a valuable hint. In two years Jim Carroll had waxed broad and genial from just such hints.

Mrs. Murphy slammed the kitchen door with a resounding bang, her face red from the icy wind. "Did you remember to bring the suit?" she panted, her voice still holding its County Cork brogue after all these years.

Ellen bent to pull off her friends' snowy rubbers. "Shure," she mimicked, "I forgot all about it. An' what will ye be wantin' suit for?"

Mrs. Murphy smiled down at the reddish brown head fondly. "To feed the birds, to be sure."

Ellen sobered but said lightly, "I thought maybe you meant it for us. I thought you'd heard the machine shop is going out on a strike. It'll take a long while to get it settled, Jim says."

Mrs. Murphy clucked sympathetically, "Too bad, too bad. Not much saved, dearie."

"A little. But not enough for a long stretch." Ellen sipped four into a yellow bowl. Mrs. Murphy watching with mute approval. Not until the shortening was blended into little flakes did she say earnestly, "You could have more, Ellen, if you weren't feedin' all the tramps in the city."

Ellen's eyes grew round with astonishment. "But they're hungry. I never give them money. It's like you and your birds. I just give them crumbs."

"Birds?" Mrs. Murphy snorted. "Birds of prey, they are. Some day I'll come here to find your head bashed in from one of those birds of yours. It's in the papers every day."

Involuntarily, Ellen shuddered. "I won't let anyone in. I just put hot soup and sandwiches on the step."

And then slowly, "It sort of destroys your faith in human nature if you cannot share what little you have."

"Well, I'm warnin' you," Mrs. Murphy rose abruptly. "I must be goin'." Big John will be home to lunch. . . . Don't forget to sprinkle some milk on the top crust to make it brown."

Afterward, Ellen patted the apples thoughtfully. How long would the strike last? Just when they were getting on their feet too. The first payment on this white clapboard bungalow had been made. She and Jim had budgeted so carefully. Tears blurred her eyes. She shook them furiously away.

The pie was completed when the front door bell rang. That might be

Jim now, if a strike were called. Ellen wiped her floury hands on her blue checked pinafore uneasily. The bell was a shrill sign of urgency. It wasn't Jim. Through the shimmering rayon curtains, Ellen had a good view of the instant visitor. Shabbily dressed, his nondescript cap pushed far back on his head, the little man kept his finger on the push button. A tramp! A bum demanding to be fed! Of all the nerve!

"Let him ring," Ellen thought, remembering Mrs. Murphy's warning with quick apprehension. If he'd only go away! But he didn't. The bell clattered intermittently, while Ellen peered fearfully through the curtains.

At last he sat on the icy steps, hugging himself against the blasts of wind that rattled the door. Ellen felt a sharp stab of pity, but it dissolved in her mounting fright.

What was he waiting for? There was something familiar about him. That was Jim's old overcoat he was wearing. Ellen recalled the fellow now, remembered the bleary eyes, the alcohol breath as he told her last year, "Ye'ee, my wife and baby was swept right away in the flood. Now they was never found, an' I've been goin' around from town to town thinkin' maybe they've been rescued somewhere and couldn't get back home."

Ellen had believed him. She had given him the coat, food, some money to continue his search. For a little while she had carried his tragedy in her heart, praying that he might find his loved ones somewhere.

Now she knew she was a fool to believe. He was back with a different hard luck story probably. And if he kept pushing that bell, she'd call the police.

Ellen returned to the kitchen slowly, a strange heaviness within her heart. You couldn't believe anything or anybody. All those poor souls she had helped had no doubt laughed at her, passed the word through their grapevine that the little woman at 212 Elm Street was a sucker for soft stuff.

The bell rang again. Two discouraged buzzes. Ellen slid the pie into the oven, wiped the dough from the table-top, wondering if the man were really hungry. He looked so cold.

There was a knock at the back door. For an instant, right in the lock of your front door. Anyone could walk right in and murder you! One of your birds came and told Big John. He rang and rang, he said. He was afraid to go off and leave it there. You mustn't be so careless, Ellen.

A great weight was sliding off Ellen's shoulders. She felt suddenly gay, light-hearted. "One of my birds," she said tenderly. "I wonder where he is."

Mrs. Murphy bristled with importance. "Over eatin' a good hot lunch with Big John. You can't turn down a man like that. Do you know he lost a wife and baby in the flood, poor soul?"

"Yes, I know," Ellen replied in a queer choked voice.

RELIED ON CLOCK

The old saw about your stomach telling you when meal time rolls around doesn't apply to a Buckley Pie prize. The soldier rushed to the chow line, but was informed by a sergeant that he had been looking at a clock in the War Information room, which gave Eastern War Time instead of Mountain War Time.

In some bird species the young and adults migrate at different times. How the young know what route to take is one of nature's great mysteries.

Damage Was Slight

Paris Suffered Much Less Than London From Air Bombing

More fortunate than London, the city of Paris was spared the fate of heavy damage from the air.

British, Canadian and United States bombers have flown over and around it hundreds of times but held their blows for military targets.

Bomb damage was confined almost entirely to the suburban industrial districts at a minimum cost to civilians. The big railroad yards, airfields and the vast Renault Motor Works and its subsidiary plants were the scenes of greatest destruction.

Two of the best examples of the devastation caused by the Allied bombers—an indication of how large sections of Germany must now look—are the Renault works on the mammoth Villeneuve-St. Georges southwestern edge of Paris and the freight yards outside Vincennes.

The Renault factory is a mass of wrecked and burned out buildings and twisted steel.

A Paris newspaper said the bombing never caused the plant to shut down completely, but "obviously slowed production greatly."

"It usually was thrown out of gear for two or three days after each raid," he declared.

Thousands of wrecked railway cars are scattered over the Villeneuve-St. Georges yards, through which the Germans had to move vast quantities of material. One area of three-quarters of a mile square is almost a solid mass of crumpled cars and locomotives and twisted rails.

The heart of Paris around the Eiffel Tower was never touched. Few if any of the historic buildings suffered any damage.

Book Of Remembrance

Commemorates Work Of Canadian Engineers Killed In Last War

Grace Melvin, well-known Vancouver artist, has completed a Book of Remembrance for the Military Engineers' Association of Canada, which will shortly be sent to Ottawa and eventually will find its place in St. Paul's Cathedral, London.

The beautifully bound and illustrated volume contains the names of the 2,004 Canadian engineers who fell in the First Great War.

For more than two years Miss Melvin, head of the department of design at the Vancouver Art School, has devoted her leisure time to working on the designing, lettering and illuminating of the book. Bound in red English morocco the 40-page volume measures 19 by 14 inches.

On the front cover a large cross is modelled in relief with lettering and an intricate design stamped in gold on the red leather.

Miss Melvin, who specializes in illumination design and lettering, was designer of the handsome illuminated address presented by the city of Vancouver to King George and Queen Elizabeth when they visited Vancouver in 1926.

The Book of Remembrance will be placed in a niche in St. Paul's Cathedral specially reserved for this Dominion. It will be one of the duties of the custodian of the Cathedral chapel to exhibit the volume to relatives of those whose names appear in it.

Has Proved Success

Combined Immunization Against Whooping Cough And Diphtheria Is Advised

Studies show that infants can be immunized successfully against diphtheria and whooping cough at the same time. The Health League of Canada reported, quoting an article by three Illinois investigators in The Journal of the American Medical Association.

"Because diphtheria and whooping cough are most prevalent and serious in the first years of life, it seemed logical that immunization against the two diseases should be attempted at the same time," the investigators are quoted. The report is based on injections given 649 infants averaging eight months in age. Three doses were given each child. Three-week intervals between doses yielded a higher percentage of immunity responses than doses one week apart. Ninety-seven per cent. of the children on the three-week-interval dosage tested immune to diphtheria and 72 per cent. had high immunity tests for whooping cough. After a stimulating dose of pertussis vaccine, the whooping cough percentage rose to 95. Reactions were transient and usually mild.

The three investigators said that "No infant so injected during the past five years . . . is known to have contracted either diseases."

Telegraph and telephone wires strung along highways average 208 pounds per mile.

Becoming Well Known

Maple Leaf Suggested As Mark For Canadian Made Goods

Canada's flag—the Red Ensign with the Dominion's coat of arms—has become known among the nations but the Maple Leaf design probably will be the banner under which trade will march to the corners of the world.

Officials say there is general agreement that the maple leaf means Canada when it appears on a truck, a tin of salmon or any other product in distant places. One suggestion is that all export goods leaving Canada should bear the Maple Leaf in addition to the trade mark and label of the manufacturer.

Goods sent out under the mutual aid program bear markings showing they are from Canada and the same may be done with supplies provided for the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration.

The Maple Leaf plan provided under mutual aid for U.N.R.R.A. will, if the plan is a good one, remind even an operator who cannot read that he should buy equipment bearing the same emblem when he can begin purchasing his own supplies after the war.

Unless there is some simple universal emblem for Canada and the goods she supplies, officials think that any advertising which might be obtained from the contribution to world reconstruction will be of little value.

When Children Die

In Many Cases Negligence Of Parents Is The Cause

The tragic death of children in an English community when a military airplane crashed in their midst aroused widespread pity and sympathy. Ironically, nothing has been said about some 240 children in England and Wales who were choked to death by diphtheria in four weeks ending April 29 last—or the hundreds of other British children who have fallen victims to preventable diseases this year. Are our tears to be confined to those children who die dramatically?

According to statistical reports, there were 2,420 cases of diphtheria in England and Wales during the four weeks mentioned. About 10 per cent. of diphtheria cases today are fatal. Many of the patients who recover suffer serious complications.

Thus, like falling aircraft or enemy missiles, infectious diseases take their toll in dead and maimed. The difference is this: All the valor and skill of the armed forces, and all that parents can do, cannot protect all children against the violence of war or accidents associated with warfare. But loving parents can and should protect their little ones against preventable diseases for which simple, safe immunization procedures are available.

Our tears for the little children who died and were maimed in the crash of the airplane cannot bring them back. But we can protect children against diseases which kill and maim just as surely as violent accidents associated with war. This applies in Canada as well as in the British Isles.

BAKED SQUASH WITH MEAT LOAF

Cut 2 lbs. Hubbard squash in half; remove seeds; brush with Mazola. Sprinkle with 1 teaspoon salt and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 15 minutes. Remove from oven and pack in the following meat mixture. Return to oven and continue baking till meat loaf is cooked. 1 lb. smoked ham, or cottage loaf 1½ lbs. fresh pork, uncooked 1 egg 1 cup cracker crumbs ¼ teaspoon pepper 1 teaspoon dry mustard 1 tablespoon corn syrup. Run meat through coarse knife of food chopper; add unbroken egg, cracker crumbs, pepper, mustard and corn syrup. Shape into a ball and place firmly into squash. Bake in moderate oven. Serves 8.

A quick and easy dessert can be made by placing a layer of graham cracker crumbs in the bottom of custard cups or small sauce dishes, then a layer of applesauce, and another layer of crumbs. If desired, a layer of custard may be placed on top with a maraschino cherry in the middle. It's tasty—a real ration and time-saver for war busy housewives.
